INT

JEREMENT

April 1950 to
September 1953

Continental Oil Company, Los Angeles, California

Made surface and subsurface geological studies of various areas in California and did well-site geology on wildcat wells. During part of this time I was assisted by junior geologists who I trained in the techniques of the work.

September 1948 to
February 1950

Tidewater Oil Company, Bakersfield, California

Surface and subsurface geological studies in the San Joaquin Valley of California.

March 1946 to
September 1948

University of California at Los Angeles

Received B. A. degree in geology. The subjects taken outside of the geological department were Inorganic Chemistry (one year), Physics (two years), College Algebra, Analytical Geometry, Differential and Integral Calculus, German (one and a half years), Surveying, English (one and a half years), American History and Government, Geography and Physical Education.

May 1945 to
February 1946

Western Geophysical Company, Los Angeles, California

Computer on seismograph crew in Montana, Wyoming and West Texas.

December 1942 to
March 1945

U. S. Navy

Part of this time was spent at U.C.L.A. and most of the remainder in Officer Training Schools. Received honorable discharge with rank of Aviation Cadet.

I speak Spanish fluently and understand enough French to read geological reports.

My date of birth was March 10, 1923, and I am married and have three children.

RESUME OF EXPERIENCE AND EDUCATION

OF

DECLAN P. FORD

October 1962 to Present

Consulting Geologist, Dallas, Texas
Engaged in the development and evaluation of shallow drilling prospects in North Texas.

May 1962 to
October 1962

DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Dallas, Texas
Subsurface geological studies and reserve calculations of oil and gas fields of Louisiana.

January 1960 to
April 1962

DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Incorporated, Dallas, Texas
Prepared report on the geology and oil prospects of certain exploration licenses held by a client in the Republic of Turkey and advised client on the advisability of further exploration and expenditures on the licenses.

Reviewed the geology of Australia and outlined an exploration program of certain permits held by a client.

Made subsurface geological studies of oil and gas fields in northeast Mexico, Texas Gulf Coast, Argentina, Bolivia and Peru. These were used for making reserve estimates and evaluating the oil and gas prospects for clients interested in these areas.

April 1959 to December 1959

DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Incorporated, Ankara, Turkey

Supervised geological field parties which mapped certain licenses held by a client in the Republic of Turkey and made regional surface and subsurface geological studies of various sedimentary basins for the purpose of preparing an evaluation of the oil and gas prospects.

September 1953 to
March 1959

DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Incorporated, Madrid, Spain

The first three years were spent in making regional and detailed surface geological studies for the purpose of locating drilling prospects in Spain. The remaining two and one-half years were spent primarily doing well-site geology, training Spanish technical personnel in this work, preparing completion reports on the wells and making evaluations of the tested prospects.
